REFLECTION - 23RD SUNDAY OF ORDINARY TIME

The “Word Trivia,” is a favorite website of mine. I suppose that the former English teacher in me surfaces now and then. At any rate, the word chosen for an early July day happened to be: “vexatious.” The definition given for this adjective was “annoying and frustrating.” That led me to apply the word to one of our Christian obligations of fraternal correction. You know what that is. To correct someone, usually a friend or family member, who has made a bad choice and is on the slippery slope to disaster.

We learn from the First Reading that Ezekiel the prophet, as the divinely appointed watchman over Israel, had to preach this obligation to Israel. It could not have been a popular pronouncement, there was an urgency at hand because the powerful kingdom of Babylon was breathing down Jerusalem’s neck.

St. Paul echoes the call. But it the Gospel tells us of God’s p elaborate three step procedure for handling the matter. It starts with a caring one-on-one conversation between the parties, and if that does not work, then present it to the community of the Church. If even that fails, then dismiss the offender in his chosen pursuit. Not a happy result.

But the “good news” that this gospel conveys is that short but very sweet promise of Jesus that when 2 or 3 of us gather in His name for matters like prayer, or decision-making, or change of lifestyle, He will be in our midst.

We Catholic Christians know that Christ has all the answers we need. But His presence adds strength to our purpose. Even to the demanding task of fraternal correction, He adds His insight and power. But, as always, we have to maintain a sense of truth and unselfishness. We can never stoop to the level of a certain senior citizen I read about.

It seems this certain old man was strolling on the beach when he came upon a magic lamp. He picked it up, dusted it off, when suddenly a genie appeared. “Because you have freed me,” the genie said, “I will grant you a wish.”

The startled old man though for a few moments and then responded, “My brother and I had a fight some thirty years ago, and he hasn’t spoken to me since. I wish that he will finally forgive me.”

There was a thunderclap and the genie declared, “your wish has been granted. But then the genie continued, “You know, most people would have asked for wealth or fame. But you only wanted the love of your brother. Is that because you are dying?”

“No way!” the man answered. “But my brother is dying and he’s worth about $60 million.”
